Dear Mrs Wohlgenuth;
Congratulations on your unexpected visit to Park.

I suspect that similar situations exist
in our other institutions, and encourage you to visit them incognito.

This way, you
could really see what circumstances are
rather than rely on underlings and Superi-
tendents word.

So often,

business and in public life, the people at the top do not really know what goes on at the people's end.

I repeat that it would be a most generous act for you to visit all our schools,
and let office work
and meetings be done
by lesser personnel on your staff.

Hopefully,
Mrs M. Wood
